Town firefighters join national strike

FIREFIGHTERS in Harlow went on strike called by the Fire Brigades Union yesterday (Wednesday) in a national dispute over pensions.

They set up a picket outside the town's fire station in Fourth Avenue from noon until 4pm

Firefighter Stefan Tanfield, speaking on behalf of his colleagues, said: "We are gutted that we have to go on strike. It is the last thing we wanted to be doing but the Government won't listen."

"Negotiations have been on-going for two years before we reached this point. It isn't a decision we took lightly."

"The changes have made a noticeable change in firefighters attitude. Time spent in the service is quite important and before, people would proudly say how long they had been in the job. Now people discuss how long they have left."

The FBU said the strike was say a "warning shot to the Government" over its members' anger about making them work until they are 60 as well as an increase in compulsory contributions.

Ministers say the action is unnecessary and the pension

Welfare service's plea for court battle funds

SUPPORTERS of Harlow's threatened welfare rights and advice service this week launched a desperate plea for donations to fund its court battle after it was granted a temporary stay of execution.

The Friends of Harlow Welfare Rights said it needs £4,200 immediately after Harlow Council's application for a winding-up order was adjourned.

A court deferred the council's application for the order and ordered a full hearing on October 30. Now supporters are asking for donations or temporary loans to help them continue the fight.

The long-established service was forced to close the doors of its East Gate offices nearly a year ago after the council terminated its contract with the service in a row over unpaid debts.

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

The council demanded payment of £125,000, rejecting offers of a phased repayment plan including an immediate payment of £60,000.

HWRA trustees then lodged an application for a judicial review.

Staff were made redundant late last year but a small team continued in a voluntary capacity to provide support and specialist debt and benefits advice to the town's cash-strapped residents.

After volunteering for several months they were eventually re-employed, only to be made redundant again following the council's recent court action.

The service has been offered free and low-cost assistance from legal experts.

Jenny Smith, treasurer of FoHWRA, said this week: "Members pledged on Sunday to continue fundraising and all loans will be repaid. That could be before the end of the year if HWRA wins."

However, a council spokesman said claims made by FoHWRA were "worryingly inaccurate and misleading."

"There is no campaign against HWRA and no application for insolvency has been made," he said. "On September 5 the council and HWRA attended a registrar of the Bankruptcy and Companies Court for a short procedural hearing on the council's petition to wind up HWRA. That is because HWRA is, and has been for many months prior to that hearing, insolvent."

"At the hearing the registrar accepted the council's application to wind up HWRA and set a date for a full hearing on October 30 at which the court will decide whether HWRA should be wound up and put into liquidation.

"It would not have had to have petitioned for HWRA's winding up had HWRA appointed a liquidator which, twice in December last year and once in January this year, it served formal High Court notices on the council of its intention to do so because it considered that it was then, or was likely to become, insolvent."

Council leader Mark Wilkinson told the Star: "The fact remains that the organisation still owes Harlow Council £125,000 and the council has no choice but to take this action to recover taxpayers' money."

"The council will continue to defend itself rigorously from any further legal action."

Town firefighters join national strike in protest over pension changes

offer is one of the most generous in the public sector.

Mr Tanfield added: "A firefighter at 60 cannot perform to the level necessary and if we don't pass those physical tests then we lose our jobs due to capability and up to two-thirds of our pension as a result.

"We also pay one of the highest contributions to our pensions. I understand that belts need to be tightened but these changes are something we all feel is unfair.

Yesterday's strike followed a vote in which 78 per cent of Fire Brigade Union members voted in favour of industrial action.

Mr Tanfield said: "If residents want to show their support then we would ask that people write to their MP stating they disagree with the changes.

"Support from residents and pressure will be the things that help the Government return to negotiations," he said.

Keith Handscomb, FBU spokesman for East Anglia, said: "Responding to terrorist attacks, flash floods, rescuing people and their families from car, train and plane crashes - and of course fighting fires inside very hot, smoke-filled, burning buildings - is a dangerous, dirty and physically demanding job.

"It's not a job for the faint-hearted and, as the Government's own expert evidence shows, it's not a job firefighters can perform at the high fitness levels required up to the age of 60."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon told the Star: "I have been to Harlow Fire Station and met with fire officers and have enormous admiration for what they do and in particular the courage and dedication that they show in their work.

"Someone did mention these pension changes to me while I was there and I have tried to represent their views in Parliament as much as I can. I understand the frustration but the difficulties are in terms of cost and the state of the country financially.

"The Government have changed original proposals and I hope that negotiations continue. There is a balance to strike because of the finances of the country but I will continue to try and represent these views as much as I can."

Masked muggers threaten group of friends with knife

SIX people were threatened with a knife by two robbers - one of them wearing a clown mask - in Harlow Town Park.

The three men and three women were sitting near the bandstand when they were approached by two masked men at about 10.30pm on Monday.

They were told to hand over their mobile phones and when one refused he was threatened with a large kitchen knife.

Two of the victims handed over their phones, a black iPhone4 and a black Samsung Galaxy S2, before the two thieves ran off in the direction of The Greyhound pub in School Lane.

One of the suspects is black, about 5ft 7in tall, in his early 20s and with a muscular build. He was wearing a white clown mask and a grey tracksuit with hooded top.

The other is white, in his late teens or early 20s, about 5ft 5in tall and with a pale complexion and tightly curled blond hair. He was wearing a balaclava and an unzipped sweatshirt with a hood.

Anyone who saw the two men around the area or running off, or who has other information about the robbery should detectives at Harlow police station on 101.

Family's warning over alarm service

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE family of a pensioner who fell at home after suffering a stroke has warned of a problem with the Telecare alarm system which offers round-the-clock support to the elderly and vulnerable.

When Ann New (90) suffered the stroke at her home in Spencers Croft, Harlow, she fell heavily, knocking her telephone off its base.

She pressed the careline button she wore around her neck to alert staff at the response centre she was in difficulty but there was no response because the phone was off the hook and she could not replace it.

It was only when a passing neighbour heard her shouts an hour later that an ambulance was called. She was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital where sadly she died a few days later.

This week Mrs New's daughter, Sheila O'Neill, said: "My mother had a bad stroke in bed and as she fell she knocked the table and knocked off the phone.

"She pushed the beeper like she had been told by us. She could see the phone but couldn't move. She kept pressing it but it was only when a man walked past and heard her that she was able to get help.

"Nobody had told us that if the phone isn't working or engaged the careline wouldn't work. We weren't aware and we want to warn people that this is the case."

Mrs O'Neill (53), of Little Cattins, added: "This is marketed to the elderly and vulnerable and she, nor we, were ever told that if the phone is off the hook it does not work. It's a 25-year-old system and people should be aware of this.

"The people I have spoken to in regards to the home help system have just said that it doesn't happen very often and thousands of lives are saved which is great. But if there's even a few people who have had to wait in an emergency or died as a result, then something should be done."

Councillor Rod Truan, Harlow Council's cabinet portfolio holder for housing, said: "Our thoughts are with the family at this time.

"A telephone being knocked off its hook in this manner is an extremely rare incident. However we are reminding all Telecare users and their next of kin of the health and safety information which ensures that if the system is ever needed that it works. We will be sending out letters this week.

"All lifetime alarm units available on the market work in the same way via a telephone and powered by electricity.

"If the telephone is off the hook for any reason the system won't work and although there are back-up batteries in the unit in case of a power cut the electric socket powering the unit must never be switched off.

"The alarm should also be regularly tested by the user at least once a month."

SIR, Do you ever wonder why residents have lost their respect for politicians in general and local politicians in particular? You would have clearly been able to answer that question if you had attended a council meeting in the Civic Centre. The ruling Labour administration denounced the introduction of the "bedroom tax" and how it was against people's human rights but then decided they had no power to help those affected by it.

If it wasn't so serious it would be laughable. In 25 years I have never seen a Labour group just sit on their hands in silence as a group of residents rightly told them what they thought of them. Then, in a further insult to residents, the chair of the meeting ordered the public gallery be cleared.

The Conservative group apparently found it funny, although they wouldn't change their local policy on the bedroom tax if they were in power in Harlow, unlike some other local Conservative-run administrations in this country.

Can anyone tell me why these people want to be politicians? They gain power and then introduce policies they failed to mention in their manifesto while failing to act on those that were in their mandate.

Please can we find some independently minded people who have a radical set of policies to improve the lives of the residents of Harlow and then, if elected, implement them.

Gary Roberts
Carters Mead, HarlowOf course Harlow people should be given priority

SIR, I was pleased to read that the new housing changes will give priority to Harlow people (Star, September 19). However, is this just yet another lie to make us believe something that will never actually happen?

I am third generation Harlow. I am 40 this week and to my dismay I am still in band four because I am single and child-free. Yet all my family live in Harlow and I was born here.

I think Harlow people should always have been given priority anyway. Women should not have to be forced to become mothers just to try to get in a higher band.

Harlow people should always have been put first. Why have they not been in the past?

I think by the time of my 80th birthday I will finally get offered that council flat but by that time I will be in a retirement home.

This is what you get for service to this town. It is no wonder people leave!

Clare Harrison
via emailWhen did Tories ever ask us how to spend money?

SIR, Cllr Tony Hall says the Conservatives allocated £220,000 for ward improvements

LAST of the summer time is how reader Paul Goodwin, of Fesants Croft, Harlow, describes this picture.

"It is a fading rose taken in my garden on September 4 this year, before the autumnal weather set in," he writes.

If you have a photo taken in Harlow you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high-resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

(Letters, September 19). Well I live in Little Parndon and we have not seen any improvements worth shouting about.

The Tory-run council got a sum of money for the repair of bad pavements for the whole town but the whole town did not get bit - Church Langley did instead.

There are dangerous pavements all over the town and I remember at the time we complained about how they got it when the rest of Harlow had pavements that needed relaying to stop the public tripping over them. The pavements are dangerous outside the block I live in and nothing has been done to them.

When did the Tories ask us what we wanted the money spent on? They did just what they wanted.

Cllr Hall seems to have a conveniently bad memory, blaming Labour for everything. I remember way back when Margaret Thatcher was in power she sold off the railways, mines, council houses, some NHS services and altered the rules for those on benefits. The Tories are doing it again and the poor suffer.

In his letter Cllr Hall said it took the Tories three years to restore sanity to Harlow Council's budgeting. In what way? All I saw was too many homeless and jobless youngsters - that's the slaughter of young people's aspirations for their futures.

Pauline Brown
Little Parndon, HarlowDrivers will park anywhere, even in allocated spaces

SIR, Parking in Harlow is a big problem. Even with allocated numbered parking spaces other people still help themselves to your space.

They also park up on the pavement, often all four wheels blocking pedestrian access completely and causing damage in the process. The green area at the Trotters Road and Pear Tree Mead junction is now used regularly as an overflow car park.

There is nowhere now that people will not attempt to park, including in front of garages and beside the road humps

V. Clifton
Aylets Field, HarlowWe need a 'pavements are for pedestrians' campaign

SIR, I am writing in support of the views of Jo West who said pavements are for the use of pedestrians (Letters, September 5).

I am a pedestrian and I have already seen one lady knocked down by a cyclist riding on the pavement. I have had so many near misses myself.

I find being a pedestrian in Harlow is very hazardous. I have to avoid parked cars, cyclists and cracked, uneven and broken paving stones.

I used to love going for walks but now I am very nervous. It is very dangerous being a pedestrian and I would like to see a 'bring back pavements' campaign because that is what they are for, not cars and bikes.

name and address suppliedNobody asked us if we wanted all these migrants

SIR, I am glad Cllr Mark Wilkinson thinks that Harlow people welcome so many immigrants to the town (Star, September 12). It just goes to show how out of touch with the real world politicians are.

Nobody asked the people of Harlow if we wanted them. I can understand immigrants taking good well paid jobs, but to take them on for low wages is an insult to the poorest of the town.

Do we really need our cars washed the minute we go shopping by some immigrant poking his head in the car the minute we arrive?

Roll on the election when UKIP can sort this mess out.

G.W. Day
via emailWill our council tax be cut once street lights go out?

SIR, Will Essex County Council take responsibility for any attacks after the street lights are switched off? (Star, September 5).

Also, if the council adopts this policy to save money, will the people of Harlow get a reduction on next year's council tax?

B. Hood
Bockles Mead, HarlowThere's nothing new in the policy of midnight switch-off

SIR, Your article regarding street lights going out at midnight is nothing new.

Years ago where I live in Old Orchard the lights went off at midnight, according to my son whose bedroom was nearby.

Now they are on all night - one outside my house and another a few yards away on Tending Road.

Moira Curry
Old Orchard, HarlowThanks for supporting our fun day and dog show

SIR, Can I through the Star's letters page say a very big thank you to the people of Harlow who came out and supported the Friends of Pers Corner's fun day and dog show last month.

It was a great success. What a crowd, what a lovely atmosphere and we had nearly 200 dogs in the show.

I would also like to thank Harlow Council chairman Linda Pailing, vice-chairman Ian Beckett, Emma Toal and Jon Clemper for the time they spent in the stocks. They did brilliantly.

Also thanks to Pets Corner manager Justin Hopwood who, after a very long day, was put in the stocks and had more wet sponges thrown at him.

We raised more than £2,000; another good day for keeping Pets Corner open.

Rape accused denies voice recording on victim's is him

A TEENAGER accused of raping a young girl in Harlow has denied it is his voice on a mobile phone recording by the victim.

Cameron Smith (18), of Waltham Abbey, has pleaded not guilty to five rapes, two sex assaults, one assault by penetration and one of inciting a child under 16 to carry out sexual activity.

During the trial at Chelmsford Crown Court the prosecution claimed that on one occasion the girl had used her mobile phone to record what was happening, during which time she is said to have told Smith 'I want you to go' and to 'get out'.

But when he was questioned by police after being arrested, Smith denied the voice on the 90-second recording was him. The court was told that experts said there is no certainty that the voice on the recording is that of Smith.

Detective Constable Tara Barnes, the officer in charge of the case, said there were no "voice description", no voice parade and no representative of the defence present during the playing of the tape for witnesses.

During the trial the jury heard that raunchy photographs of the alleged victim had been found on her mobile phone and she had sent them to a teenage boy.

Smith has declined to give evidence in his own defence. The case continues.

Paralympian takes on extreme course

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Paralympian athlete Anne Wafula Strike completed a gruelling 12-mile obstacle course which included jumping over fire, crawling through mud and wading in icy water to raise funds for charity.

The wheelchair-bound athlete managed to take on and complete the Tough Mudder challenge in Wales which featured obstacles designed by British Special Forces.

Anne, who took on the endurance course with her team to raise funds for AbleChild Africa - a charity that supports young people living with a disability in Africa.

"It was very exhausting and exciting and my body is still aching but it was hugely rewarding," she said.

"I decided to tackle the Tough Mudder as I know it is a difficult challenge. I wanted to highlight how difficult it is to be disabled in Africa, where some people do not have wheelchairs and have to crawl on their hands and knees, some who are locked away like animals in cages

"It is horrible and it inspired me to carry on when it got difficult."

Anne and her team of 12 completed the course in around seven hours and are hoping to raise £10,000. The athlete used a specially adapted wheelchair provided by in2outdoormobility to tackle the challenge.

The mother-of-one paid tribute to her teammates without whom she said she would not have been able to complete the challenge.

"It was teamwork; without them I could not have finished. We all worked hard and worked together to get across that finish line.

"The Mud Mile was probably the hardest part, it seemed to go on forever. It was difficult but we all finished as a team.

"The organisers even told us that we were one of the best teams to ever have completed the course.

"I'm very proud of them and of myself. Being in a wheelchair and being able to do that is incredible."

Anne's wheelchair racing coach Ken Day and Mark Macciochi, who works at Harlow LeisureZone and who has completed the Tough Mudder course himself, helped prepare her both mentally and physically.

She said: "Ken and Mark were a huge help and helped prepare me for the challenge. I had to be mentally strong.

"The human mind and good support can go a long way and I had a good team and a great cause to inspire me.

"AbleChild Africa is a great but small charity and they do a lot for disabled people."

To sponsor Anne and her team, visit mydonate.bt.com/events/acatough-mudder or text MUDD13 and the amount you wish to donate to 70070.

Bus driver sacked over 'phone' video

A BUS driver has been sacked after he was caught apparently holding a mobile phone while driving a vehicle containing passengers in Harlow.

The Roadrunners Coaches employee was spotted in Seymors on September 11 by a cyclist who was wearing a camera mounted on his headgear.

At first the firm said it would be taking no further action against the man in question as managers believed he was holding a ticket module.

However, a spokeswoman later said they took the decision to sack him after reviewing the evidence. He will not contest the dismissal

"He told us that it was a module but he shouldn't be (holding) that while driving anyway," she said.

A spokesman for Essex Police said: "Enquiries are continuing and we have served a notice on the company to identify the driver."

MP's drama praise

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon presented the prizes at this year's North Essex Partnership University NHS Foundation Trust drama competition at the annual meeting held at the Latton Bush Centre.

Five schools took part in the final of the 'Soapsense' drama competition, with Harlow's Mark Hall Academy finishing joint third.

Mr Halfon said: "From just watching the drama performances I learnt a lot about mental health."

He added: "I'm proud that this year's competition and annual meeting were held in Harlow."

NOSTALGIA

Film fans reel back years with memories of cinema

THERE seem to be a lot of film fans in Harlow judging by the number of Nostalgia readers who have shared their memories of the town's first two cinemas - the Regent at Templefields and the Odeon in West Gate.

June Delacour (82), of Altham Grove, remembers taking her son to the Odeon when it first opened.

"I remember taking my son there quite a lot," she said. "There was a big star at the top of the block of flats in town and it was all lit up. I remember it quite clearly but nobody knew what it was at first.

"There was also a cinema down near the factories in Templefields and I used to take my son to that cinema before the Odeon opened. I had to give him a piggyback back home to Canons Gate once!"

June added: "The Odeon was bringing entertainment to the town. Back then, people used to go to The Stow as there were only a few shops in the centre."

Ron Johnson, of Radburn Close, said: "In 1960 I left school and started work at Elremco Ltd based at Bush Fair. They paid for my further education at Harlow College for one day and one evening a week.

"As I lived in Nazeing and my only form of transport was a

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

bicycle, on the evenings when I was due to go to the college I often used to go to the Odeon to while away the time between leaving work and starting my evening class. There wasn't enough time to cycle home to Nazeing, have something to eat, and then cycle back to Harlow.

"I used to chain my bike to a lamppost outside the cinema. In those days the road used to bisect the town centre, passing right outside the cinema.

"I'm ashamed to admit that sometimes, if the film was very good, I would stay and watch it to the end rather than leave halfway through to go to my evening class."

Nostalgia reader Glenn Symonds-Geniau emailed in. He said: "I remember going to Saturday morning pictures there from 1967 from the age of five with my older brother and friends.

"It was a great treat in those days. The programme consisted of Woody Woodpecker, The Three Stooges, a film and to finish off Flash Gordon.

"We all had a singalong to start with and even had the National Anthem which we all stood up for."

Moyna Strowman, who also got in touch by email, was part of the Odeon's opening night choir.

She said: "I was in the choir that sung on the opening night, as were my sister and brother. We attended Tanys Dell School and the school was asked to provide a choir to sing the National Anthem.

"We sat right down the front on the left hand side. One abiding memory is the ceiling lights; they were like a spray fan - so modern, with coloured light bulbs.

"My parents attended the opening night, too. The film Follow A Star was wonderful and raised much laughter."

But 73-year-old Roy Whittle remembers Harlow's very first cinema - The Regent in Templefields.

He said: "Harlow did have the first cinema after the Second World War but it was The Regent. It was in Templefields in the factory estate.

"I came to Harlow in 1952 and if my memory serves me right it was the Regent in South Road which was open until sometime in 1956."

IN THE PRESS: Cllr Laurie Smith and Harlow Market Traders Association chairman Ted Witt with children and staff from The Mead, Tye Green and Commonsides schools

School to hold its first reunion

OUR school years are the happiest of our lives . . . or so we are told.

And Harlow Fields School is hoping to stir the memories of former staff and students by holding its first ever reunion.

During the 1960s there were three schools in Harlow The Mead, Tye Green and Commonsides - catering for children with physical disabilities and learning difficulties.

Today Harlow Fields School - to give it its full title Harlow Fields School and College - provides the education for special needs pupils aged 3-19.

The school will be hosting a reunion for students and staff on October 16 and is asking people to share their photos, documents and memories of their time there.

Organiser Kathy Fuller said: "This is the first reunion we have ever done and it will be an opportunity to catch up with friends, students and colleagues and share memories of past school days."

For more information, contact Kathy or Beverley Forbes on (01279) 423670.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Barking mad to miss fundraiser

DOG owners are encouraged to raise funds for St Clare Hospice by taking part in a Winter Walkies event.

The two-mile walk, which is being held in Stansted on Sunday, October 6, starts at the Dog and Duck pub in Lower Street at 11am.

Online registration is now open and costs £10 for adults, £5 for children or £27.50 for a family ticket. Visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk for more details.

CCTV of food shop theft suspect

POLICE have released a CCTV image of a man who is suspected of stealing meat and milk from a store in Southern Way, Harlow.

He took the items worth £35 from the M&S Simply Food shop at the BP petrol station at around 12.20pm on Sunday, September 15.

He is described as white, in his mid-20s with short brown hair and was wearing a black and white striped hooded top, grey trousers and white trainers.

Anyone who can identify the suspect is asked to call Harlow police on 101.

New homes for sale in park

NINE new family homes on the fringes of Harlow Town Park will go sale on Saturday.

The Arbour Mews development of four- and five-bedroom properties in School Lane has been built by Kier Homes.

Prices for the new-builds start from £479,995 for a four-bedroom property.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY:
Ruth Anderson celebrated her 100th birthday with her family and friends

Ruth celebrates 100th with party

SIXTY family members and friends gathered to celebrate the 100th birthday of Harlow's latest centenarian.

Ruth Anderson was guest of honour at a surprise birthday party organised by her daughter Jill Locke (68).

"She absolutely loved her party," said Jill, of Rosemount.

"There were 60 of us so we were a little bit crushed inside but it was all good fun.

"Mum is a very independent woman who told me she would never go into a home.

"She is so proud of her card from the Queen - it's sitting on her windowsill."

Mrs Anderson - who also has a son, Terry - was married to husband Reginald for more than 60 years before he passed away from Alzheimer's.

Jill said: "We go shopping a lot and people are always amazed when she mentions her age, as you would be,

"She used to run a club in Edmonton where we are from called Homes and Nurseries. She liked to be in charge and she's still a bit of a bossy boots!"

Super-hub airport 'is not viable'

ESSEX County Council has warned the commission looking into the future of aviation in the south-east against proposals for an "unwanted and unviable" super-airport at Stansted.

It has instead called for greater focus on realistic, affordable and practical options that will allow "sensible growth" in Essex.

The Airports Commission, chaired by economist Sir Howard Davies, has been asked by the Government to look into whether the UK needs more airport capacity in order to cope with increased demand for air travel.

It has been asked to make short-term recommendations by the end of December and to provide a long-term plan when it submits its final report in the summer of 2015 - after the next General Election.

Earlier this summer Stansted's owner, Manchester Airports Group, agreed with London mayor Boris Johnson that four runways at Stansted was one solution to the capacity issue while stressing that making full use of the low-cost base's 35 million passengers-a-year single-runway capacity is the priority.

In a report published on Tuesday, the county council said that proposals such as closing Heathrow and building five-runway "super-hub airports", either at Stansted or in the Thames Estuary, would be too costly and disruptive to deliver.

Essex County Council leader David Finch said: "The UK does not have the time or the money to waste on impractical or undeliverable schemes that could suck up a sum of taxpayers' money equivalent to twice the UK's defence budget.

"Any proposal for a giant super-hub airport at Stansted is completely unacceptable to the council and Essex residents."

While the county council said it supports sensible growth at Stansted, it does not believe the case for a second runway exists at the moment.

Credit union in membership drive

A CREDIT union is hoping to raise its profile in an attempt to encourage more residents who want to save the pounds while counting the pennies join the group.

Harlowsave offers its members "accessible" financial services which help prevent them running up debts which spiral out of control.

Manager Jenny Smith said: "We are seeing more people struggling than saving but we offer a practical way of saving money for our members.

"We only loan money to people who can afford to pay it back. Harlowsave, like all credit unions, is democratically owned and controlled by members and we are governed."

Harlowsave, which is located on the first floor of Harlow Central Library, currently has more than 1,000 members who are all able to save, take out and pay back loans.

Phil Myhill, of Harlowsave, added: "We want to extend our membership as widely as possible and in this way contribute to Harlow's regeneration.

"We encourage people to save and we can help residents with managing their money in an accessible and affordable way.

"We want people to take charge of their money and this is a great way to do it."

RAF association raises over £800

THE Harlow branch of the RAF Association has raised more than £800 for the Wings Appeal.

Branch members held a stall in the town centre where RAF memorabilia was sold. They also invited shoppers to take part in a Name the Teddy competition with the winner receiving a Red Arrows teddy.

The winner, who lives in Sheering, entered the correct guess of 'Amelia' after American aviation pioneer Amelia Earhart.

The group was helped by cadets from the 2317 Squadron Harlow ATC and the 909 Squadron Sawbridgeworth ATC.

"We would like to say thank you to everybody who donated," said Wings Appeal organiser Joan Simmons.

Hospital team in charity walk

STAFF from the critical care department at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital walked from Stonehenge to Avebury Stones to raise money for the Alzheimer's Society and to purchase intensive care equipment.

The group of doctors and nurses took on the challenge as part of their fundraising campaign which has already raised over £110,000 for the unit and enabled the acquisition of specialist equipment.

Sarah Jones, senior sister for ITU/HDU, said: "We were delighted to take part in this event even though the steep hills were tough going! We all completed it and enjoyed a well-deserved rest afterwards!"

"Seven of us from the hospital took part and the group raised £2,000 which is going to be split between the two charities."

Music on menu at rotary fundraiser

MEMBERS of Harlow Tye Rotary Club will be hosting a night of music to raise money to fund local community projects across the town.

Rhythm and blues band The Fugitives will be performing at Sheering Village Hall on October 26.

There will be a bar and raffle at the fundraiser, which starts at 7.30pm.

For more information or to buy tickets, which are limited, call Chris on (01279) 734334.

St Clare Hospice lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, September 20 is the holder of ticket number 592654. The winner lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 was won by ticket holder 317684, who also lives in Harlow.

Fundraiser Sam is man on a mission

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

UP until the birth of his son Ralph in May 2011, life for Sam Snelling was relatively normal.

But all that changed when his baby boy swallowed meconium - the early faeces of a newborn - causing his lungs to collapse and his kidneys to fail.

He spent six days fighting for his life in the neo-natal intensive care unit at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital receiving round-the-clock care.

Fortunately, he pulled through and soon after Sam (30), of Victoria Gate, Harlow, began fundraising on behalf of the unit that saved his son's life.

He started with a charity run and leg armpit waxing. Within the first year Sam and his wife Nina (30) managed to raise £3,000.

The couple continued fundraising and this year he set a target of £4,000 to bring the total to £7,000. But so far Sam's Mission - as he calls his fundraising challenge - has raised £8,500.

"It has been unbelievable," he said. "It just amazes me so much; it's been really incredible. I'm 18 months into fundraising and it still amazes me."

"I am hugely humbled by everyone who has helped me reach this target, from the person who put £5 into the bucket to the person who shaved his head or ran a half-marathon. Everything counts."

Sam and Nina's latest fundraiser, organised with Garden of India restaurant owner Mo Uddin, was a curry night held at the Bush Fair eatery. Along with the proceeds of a raffle, it raised more than £2,000 for the unit.

"There were about 70 people at the charity curry night which was great and the raffle was a real success. We had lots of local businesses donate prizes.

"There was a lot of organisation, Mo did a lot and Nina and I did the rest. It was hard but I'd do it all again to raise over £2,000."

Sam's next fundraiser is a one-mile welly and dog walk on October 13. "Humans are welcome without dogs; we don't want to make it too restrictive and want to raise as much money as possible," he said.

"I'll also be doing the Royal Parks half marathon in early October and towards the end of October I am taking part in the BUPA half marathon with a friend."

He added: "The NICU helped save Ralph's life and this is my small way of saying thank you, though I'll never be able to repay them."

"It's amazing to get emails and calls now with people wanting to get involved and fundraise for Sam's Mission. Through this challenge I've made friends who I would never have met and received a lot of support. It's just been an incredible journey so far."

To sign up for the walk or to get involved with Sam's Mission, email Sam on getinvolved@samsmission.co.uk. To donate, visit www.justgiving.com/Sam-Snelling.

Train operator on track for service punctuality

LATEST punctuality figures released by Network Rail show that 93 per cent of train operator Greater Anglia's services ran to time last month.

The figures cover the four-week period covered from August 18 to September 14.

Greater Anglia operates London Liverpool Street to Cambridge trains serving Harlow Town, Harlow Mill and Sawbridgeworth stations as well as the Stansted Express service.

It is the eighth consecutive period in which Greater Anglia has recorded punctuality of at least 91 per cent.

Ruud Haket, managing director of Greater Anglia, welcomed the figures but added: "We recognise there is still more work to do in achieving greater levels of consistency and will continue to concentrate our efforts on further improvements."

BREAKING NEW GROUND: Harriet Carr-West, area director of the North Essex Partnership Foundation Trust cuts the first turf

Work under way on £9m refurb of Derwent Centre

MAJOR refurbishment of Harlow's Derwent Centre has started with a turf-cutting ceremony.

Organised by the North Essex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust, the ceremony marked the official start of building work which is set to transform the centre into a state-of-the-art facility for treating people with mental health problems.

The ageing building on Hamstel Road is in dire need of modernisation.

A cheque for £9m was presented by director of resources Rick Tazzini to cover the cost of the work.

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Area director Harriett Carr-West, who retired from the trust last Friday after 26 years working in Essex, dug a hole to symbolise the start of the building work.

The Derwent Centre will continue to function as a treatment centre during the building work, which is expected to last two years.

Patients and staff will use some parts of the centre while building work is carried out.

Trust chief executive Andrew Geldard said: "This is a major investment; we are improving the Derwent Centre.

"Keeping it operational whilst building work is going on will be a challenge but it has to be done.

"We have dedicated and professional staff who are working with our building contractor to keep disruption and noise to a minimum."

Following the scheme's completion in 2015, patients will benefit from a new ward, therapy hub and canteen housed in a modern two-storey extension.

Paul to fulfil boyhood dream on Great Wall walk

A GRANDFATHER-of-three is set to fulfil a schoolboy dream by trekking the Great Wall of China to raise more than £2,000 for St Clare Hospice.

Former policeman Paul Woodward, pictured, who now volunteers as a receptionist at the Hastingwood centre, will be part of a group completing the nine-day trip next month.

"I remember learning about the Great Wall of China as a young boy at school in north London, thinking wow I'd love to do that and never ever thinking I'd be able to do it," said Paul (62). "But here I am, 50 years later and I'm ready to take on the challenge. I cannot wait."

Paul's association with the hospice began when his father, Harry, was cared for there eight years ago. His mum, Joy, also attended day therapy at the hospice until she passed away last year.

"I've been involved with the hospice for many years and have seen what great work it does," said Paul, of Theydon Bois.

"While I was caring for Mum I joined the user involvement forum but joined as a volunteer as soon as I could because I just had to give something back. It was then that I saw the adverts for the Great Wall of China Challenge and I thought what a fantastic way to do something that I never thought possible, but raise money for St Clare at the same time."

Paul has been training hard in the months leading up to his trek with regular gym sessions and bike rides around Epping Forest.

"The build-up has been fantastic and my fitness has improved, I now just can't wait to go. Sounds cheesy but it will be an experience of a lifetime."

COMPETITIONWIN Table for 10 at a Monte Carlo-themed Christmas celebration

Best Parties Ever.com

WITH Christmas just 89 days away, thoughts are turning to organising the annual festive party.

So this week the Star has teamed up with Best Parties Ever - the UK's leading Christmas party specialist - to give you the chance to win a table for 10 people at a 'Midnight in Monte Carlo' party at North Weald Airfield.

Join the jet-set, avoid the paparazzi and stroll into the Millionaires' Casino, admire the ornate columns and marble flooring and enjoy a glass of Kir Royale in the sophisticated champagne bar.

A sumptuous four-course dinner awaits, followed by entertainment provided by fire and pyrotechnic performers and thrilling displays from aerial silk artists.

Later, make your way to the pit lane and show your racing skills on the Grand Prix simulators, then demonstrate your prowess for real on the dodgems!

And then the casino awaits - or take to the dance floor to show off your best moves.

Finally, before the victory lap home, enjoy the survivor's breakfast.

The party season runs from Friday, November 21 until Saturday, December 21. Ticket prices start from £37.50 (+VAT) and this year Best Parties Ever will be raising money for Saint Francis Hospice throughout.

For more information call 0844 499 4040, e-mail sales@bestpartiesever.com or visit www.bestpartiesever.com.

To be in with a chance of winning a table for 10 on any night of your choice (subject to availability), answer the question below.

Where will the 'Midnight in Monte Carlo' parties be held?

Bus roadshow turns spotlight on Gilston Park housing plans

DEVELOPERS behind proposals to build 10,000 homes of farmland on countryside to the north of Harlow took their plans on the road on board a touring double decker bus.

Developers Places for People brought the roadshow to Harlow and Sawbridgeworth on Friday and Saturday as part of a public consultation campaign.

The bus first stopped off at Sainsbury's in Fifth Avenue on Friday and the following day moved on to Market Square after having first visited Sawbridgeworth.

A team of Places for People staff was on board to discuss the proposals for the Gilston Park Estate which have been labelled a scaled-down version of the original Harlow North scheme.

The plans, which if successful will take up to 17 years to come to fruition, show a number of self-sufficient villages with small green wedges surrounding a large park. They also include new primary and secondary schools, a health centre, leisure centre and retirement homes.

PfP director Mary Parsons said: "We had some really constructive, positive feedback.

"What we want to make sure is that residents know what we are really proposing. These aren't the plans from 10 years ago; it is a different approach.

"We have taken on board what people have talked to us about, we changed our plans, we listened to concerns about roads, hospitals and schools and we have addressed them. It is a long-term plan and we are committed in the investment of Harlow's regeneration and we know we can deliver a fantastic place for people to live."

bianca.castro@hertsexnews.co.uk

She added: "I understand the concerns but people need homes and this is a really good way to help solve that which is why we are committed to this project because of the opportunities it will bring and the difference it will make to thousands of lives."

The plans have gained cross-party support in Harlow and among visitors to the bus on Friday were Labour county councillor Tony Durcan and Conservative district councillor Simon Carter.

Cllr Durcan said: "We really welcome this new initiative to bring plans of the proposals to the people of Harlow to understand exactly what can happen to help revitalise and regenerate the town.

"Growth in the north of Harlow has always been a part of our growth agenda and we liked the original plans for Harlow North, but we love these new proposals."

Cllr Carter added: "We have a real opportunity for growth with these plans and we really like that these proposals mirror [Harlow masterplan] Sir Frederick Gibberd's designs.

"It is more of what Harlow is with small communities and we think it is a major improvement on the original proposals."

Crane operator Tristram loves living the high life

TELEVISION viewers are being given an insight into the working life of a crane operator from Sawbridgeworth. Tristram Mayes, who has lived in The Forebury for nine years, appeared in BBC2's documentary The Crane Gang broadcast on Sunday and again this Sunday.

The 31-year-old, originally from Coopersale in Epping, believes the programme - which is part of the channel's Modern Times series - will be an opportunity for the public to learn more about cranes as well as how different life is for those who operate them.

"It's good for the public to see because the cranes are interesting if you're into heavy machinery and it's also good for them to see the totally different way of life [for crane operators]," he said.

Tristram is often away from his wife and their three children - Dailey (8), Ashton (6) and Darcey (seven months) - for weeks or even months at a time.

"It's one of the worst things about this job," said Tristram. "I love cranes, it's in my blood, but you don't get a social life. I've been away for my kids' birthdays before. Obviously I've made it up when I've got back, but it's a hard life."

Tristram, whose father was also a crane operator, has travelled across Europe in order to work and once went as far as Uruguay. Despite that, he has other ambitions in life which he still harbours hope of fulfilling.

"I wanted to be a pilot," he said. "I started lessons when I was younger but I still need to finish. I am still a member at North Weald Airfield."

The first episode of The Crane Gang is available on the BBC's iPlayer.

E-fit clue to mobility scooter bag thief

POLICE have this week issued an e-fit of a man they want to question over the theft of a handbag from a woman in a mobility scooter.

The victim, a woman in her 40s, was in Bromley Close, Harlow, at about 5.35pm on Wednesday, September 11 when she was approached from behind by a man who tried to grab her handbag from the rear basket of her mobility scooter.

The victim grabbed her bag to prevent it being taken, but was pushed by the robber. He then made off with her bag which contained a purse with £100 cash in it.

The suspect is described as white, aged 25-30, of slim build and average height. He had short dark hair and was wearing blue jeans and a dark blue jacket with reflective stripes.

Anyone with information should contact Detective Constable Gav Morris at Harlow Police Station on 101.

Man sentenced to jail for 'handgun' scare walks free

A MAN who sparked a major police alert in Harlow after he was seen holding what appeared to be a handgun has this week been jailed for six months.

But because of the time Polish-born Tomasz Witczak has already spent in custody waiting for his case to come to court, he was freed immediately on licence.

Witczak (36), whose address was given as the homelessness charity Streets2Homes at Wych Elm, pleaded guilty to possession of an imitation firearm.

Mark Lakin, prosecuting, told Chelmsford Crown Court the incident happened on the morning of June 18 this year.

"A man was on his way through a wooded area in the star@hertssexnews.co.uk

area of The Hides, Harlow," said Mr Lakin. "Four people were drinking alcohol sitting down on a grassed area and saw this defendant holding what appeared to be a real handgun."

"Witczak appeared to be looking at it but when he saw the man he covered over the gun with a jacket. After walking away, the witness called the police."

Armed officers were sent to the scene and the police helicopter was scrambled.

"Witczak was seen with three others still in the wooded area and was seen to get up, pick up a red bag and throw it into nearby bushes and went back to the group," said Mr Lakin. "Police found the bag and inside was the gun."

When he was questioned by police, Witczak claimed that a couple of minutes before being arrested he was approached by two Russian males who handed him the weapon saying it was broken.

However, he was shown a 12-minute CCTV recording from the helicopter during which no-one approached him.

Examination of the gun by a forensic scientist showed it was a Taiwanese 6mm BB gas-powered air pistol with four yellow ball bearings but was not capable of being fired.

There was no gas and when re-filled with gas "it flowed out", said Mr Lakin.

RIGHTS&ADVICE Information from Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice

Why bankruptcy is the most serious of all debt solutions

THE third option in our series on debt solutions is bankruptcy. This is a court order and it is not cheap.

You need £525 for the Official Receiver and £175 in court fees, although you may not have to pay some or any of the court fee depending on your financial circumstances.

There are two ways you can become bankrupt: you either apply yourself or another person or a company makes you bankrupt.

The main condition is that you owe a minimum of £750 that you cannot pay. You don't have to owe it to just one creditor as multiple creditors can add their debts together to reach the minimum.

The procedure itself is straightforward. The court will decide whether to make you bankrupt. It may not do so if there appears to be a better alternative to solving your debt problem.

If bankruptcy is decided, all your affairs are dealt with by a 'trustee' who can be an official receiver or an insolvency practitioner. If any money is raised by, for example, selling your assets then their fees will be paid first.

Bankruptcy is probably the most serious of debt solutions as, depending on your circumstances, it can be very helpful or a big problem.

The biggest advantage is that most of your debts will be written off as far as you are concerned... but it can be at a price. If you are qualified in some professions it could mean the end of your career.

If you rent your home your tenancy may have a clause about bankruptcy that could mean that your landlord could terminate the contract.

Owner-occupiers may have their homes sold to release cash to go towards paying debts. Anything that has a realisable value can be sold although you are allowed to keep tools or a vehicle for work and household effects such as furniture and clothing.

Any assets such as a home, car or other valuables that you have given away or sold at well below their true value in the previous five years can be claimed back for resale.

Future private and occupational pensions are now mostly safe under new rules in August this year.

If you are considering bankruptcy, it is important you seek specialist advice first.

Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice will be running an advice session outside the Advice Centre in East Gate on Tuesday, October 1 from 10am-2pm

Now that's a record!

IT'S the must-have Christmas present for anyone who likes facts and figures.

The latest edition of the best-selling Guinness World Records has just been published and its cram-packed with fascinating pieces of information. Among the entries are these four:

- >> the world's largest rideable motorcycle built by Fabio Reggiani in Italy is six times larger than a normal motorbike.
- >> a dog called Ozzy managed to complete a 3.5-metre tightrope walk in 18.22 seconds.
- >> Happie the goat skateboarded 36 metres in 25 seconds to set a new world record
- >> Rohan Kokane from India broke the record for the lowest limbo skater - skating 10 metres whilst flattening himself down to just 25cm tall.

Andy magics up a place in wedding awards finals

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MAGICIAN from Harlow has been shortlisted as a regional finalist for the title of Specialist Wedding Supplier of the Year at the English Wedding Awards.

Andy Jamieson, pictured left, who performs close-up tricks and who has always had an interest in magic was nominated for this year's awards by previous customers.

The category winners will be revealed at a ceremony next month.

"I had heard of these awards before but it was a complete surprise when I was told that I was a finalist," said father-of-two Andy (42), of Canons Gate. "I wasn't expecting it at all but I was delighted to get the news."

"I have been doing this for just over a year but I always had an interest in magic."

"I left work to look after my daughter and about 18 months ago somebody showed me a trick and I thought 'I could do that'."

Andy, who is the resident magician for West Ham United FC, performs card tricks and encourages audience participation.

He said: "My daughter knows how to do most of my magic tricks but my son, who is three, is always asking for me to check behind his ear for any chocolate or coins."

Restaurant chain beefs up search for steak 'champ'

A RESTAURANT chain with a branch in Old Harlow has teamed up with cricket legend Sir Ian Botham to find the next 'Boss of Beef' apprentice who will receive a lifetime supply of free steaks.

Harlow Mill Beefeater is hoping to find a resident of the town to take on the mantle.

In his role as Boss of Beef, Sir Ian has been promoting the restaurant chain's favourite meat. He will now be passing on the title to an apprentice who, as part of their prize, will win a lifetime supply of free steak.

Five candidates will be shortlisted and interviewed by Sir Ian. The winner will also get the chance to learn top tips on how to grill the perfect steak from Beef-eater's chefs at the Whitbread Skills Academy.

Sir Ian, whose nickname is Beefy, said: "I'll be in Oz this winter so I'm on the lookout for a worthy candidate who can step into my chef whites and become Beefeater's new Boss of Beef."

"I will be giving all candidates a real grilling before I make my choice."

Sarah Tinsley, brand manager for Beefeater, said: "With Sir Ian's help we have been able to put steak back into the heart of the nation this summer."

"We are really excited to see who has what it takes to take on such an incredible role and to really do justice to the role of Boss of Beef and all the responsibility that comes with the title."

Countdown to MP's jobs fair

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon will be holding his second jobs fair in the town next month.

The free event at Harlow Leisurezone will give people actively seeking work the opportunity to meet representatives of local businesses.

There will also be opportunities to gain work experience and training with companies looking to help people get onto the job ladder, as well as tips and advice on compiling a CV and interview technique.

Mr Halfon - who is organising the fair with the help of Jobcentre Plus, the Presidents Sporting Club and the Harlow and District Chamber of Commerce - said: "I know that looking and applying for a job is often as daunting for a jobseeker as it is difficult for a company to find the right person for their business."

The fair takes place on Friday, October 11 from 10am-3.30pm. For more details and to register, visit <http://harlowjobsfair2013.eventbrite.com/>

YOUR HEALTH IN GOOD HANDS

RIVERS
HOSPITAL

Your local choice

More and more people are "going private" whenever they need hospital care, in fact last year nearly 6,000 private patients were admitted to The Rivers Hospital in Sawbridgeworth. However many people still do not realise how easy it can be to access Private Healthcare, or the benefit it can bring.

Private health care is available to you whether or not you have Private Medical Insurance. If your family doctor is referring you to hospital, simply ask for a private referral. You are advised to check your policy for insurance cover, or if self funding contact the Hospital's enquiry line for an estimate of costs.

As a Rivers Hospital private patient you will enjoy Premium Care benefits – with high quality levels of care and comfort, to help you quickly back onto the road to recovery.

No waiting list

When you "Go Private" there is no lengthy waiting list – This means you can get fast access to diagnostic tests, and Consultant Specialist advice, as well as early admission to hospital if you need treatment, therefore getting better more quickly.

Expert Clinical Care

Private patient care is led by a Consultant Specialist, and your treatment will be delivered by the Consultant, rather than a more junior doctor. The Consultant is supported by a friendly, skilled team of nurses and healthcare professionals, including a doctor on site 24 hours per day.

Medical Facilities

Ramsay Health Care invests in the latest medical technologies so that your Consultant has modern clinical equipment to diagnose and treat your condition.

Safety and Cleanliness

You can be reassured that The Rivers hospital has very high standards of Clinical quality and safety, and is strictly regulated by the Care Quality Commission. The hospital has effective infection control measures, with cleanliness a top priority.

Premium Care Benefits – Comfort & Privacy during your Hospital Stay

If you need to stay in hospital you can enjoy fast track admission to a comfortable single room with en-suite facilities, and excellent hotel services including free satellite TV viewing, wi-fi access and newspaper.

Having your own room means you can have privacy when you want it, although The Rivers has open visiting hours, so your family and friends can see you whenever you want company. The Rivers offers free car parking, so there are no worries about parking charges or penalties.

Day patients have the benefit of efficient day case processes, in dedicated facilities, which can allow you to go back to the comfort of your own home within hours.

Caring for you

Independent research shows patient satisfaction levels in Ramsay Hospitals to be among the top 2% of all UK organisations, with most patients commenting on how well cared for they have felt during their stay.

Self Pay Packages – Fixed Cost Care

If you are waiting for surgery The Rivers offers self pay package prices, which are all-inclusive of the Surgeon, Anaesthetist and Hospital charges, so you will know the costs at the outset.

Please call the Hospital Services Enquiries team on 01279 602 644 for a price estimate and further advice or guidance.

Private Medical Insurance

If you are insured – we hope you will appreciate the benefit whenever you need to claim.

Beacon award for PAH cancer nurse

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DEDICATED research nurse at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital has been honoured by a cancer charity for her support of patients affected by the UK's fifth most common cancer.

Joanne Kellaway (40), won a Beacons of Hope Award at the Lymphoma Association's annual awards ceremony held at the Museum of London.

The ceremony took place during Lymphatic Cancer Awareness Week, which aims to raise awareness of the most common type of blood cancer.

Presenting Joanne with her award, charity chairman Gordon Johns read out a citation from one of her patients, who wrote: "When Joanne was told about my diagnosis she cancelled her next day off to attend a meeting with me. She arranged an immediate bone marrow biopsy, which was carried out the same day thanks to her dedication to her duty and her professionalism."

"Throughout the treatment Joanne provided me with all the information I needed. After my treatment she would always call me to see how I was, checking up not only on my well-being but also of my wife who was caring for me. She has an immense workload but also an immense dedication."

Sally Penrose, chief executive of the Lymphoma Association, said: "We were delighted to be able to present Joanne with a Beacons of Hope Award."

"We specialise in giving reliable medical information and appropriate support to anyone affected by lymphoma and the Beacons of Hope Awards are a chance for us to say thank you to people like Joanne who make a difference"

The Guide

Evening of laughs with the Canadian invasion

FOLLOWING a hugely successful run at the Edinburgh Festival, Canadian trio Stewart Francis, Craig Campbell and Glenn Wool will be bringing their stand-up comedy show to Harlow next week.

They will be performing their own sets, side by side, as part of their debut UK tour of The Lumberjacks.

With refreshingly contrasting styles, it's a chance to see them come together to perform their own uniquely individual material.

Stewart Francis is the punmaster of the one-liners. After moving to the UK three years ago he rapidly established himself as one of the best comics on the circuit. A regular on the BBC's Mock The Week, Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow and Live At The Apollo, he has just finished an extensive UK tour.

Craig Campbell is one of the most charismatic and inventive performers around. He has also appeared on Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow as well as Russell Howard's Good News and One Night Stand.

Glenn Wool is probably best known for his live performances but his growing list of television credits includes The Green Room With Paul Provenza, Jon Oliver's New York Stand-up Show and Funny As Hell.

>> The Lumberjacks will be at Harlow Playhouse on Saturday. The show is suitable for 16+ and the performance starts at 8pm. Tickets cost £16 and can be bought from the box office by calling (01279) 431945 or visiting www.playhouseharlow.com.

The sounds of the seventies

AN evening of favourite songs from the decade when flared trousers and platform shoes were considered the height of fashion will be performed at Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow tomorrow (Friday) to raise money for charity.

Jim Thompson, of Thompson Promotions, has organised the show Avenue - Into The 70's in aid of P.A.C.T - Parents of Autistic Children Together. The songs will be performed by Jason Thorpe and Debbie Hannam, pictured right.

Jim said: "The local community around autism is surprisingly huge and having worked with autistic children, it is a charity I was keen to help."

"Thompson Promotions was set up to help bring a different audience to the Victoria Hall Theatre by means of music and, hopefully, comedy.

"The main thing is that there is always a charity element, not just the theatre, which is a charity itself, but other local charities that would benefit from a raised profile and much-needed funds."

Fifty per cent of the profits from the concert will be donated to P.A.C.T. along with the proceeds of the raffle.

>> Avenue - Into The 70's takes place tomorrow. Doors open at 7pm for an 8pm start. Tickets cost £12 and can be bought online at www.ticketsource.co.uk/tpromotions.

Talent show trauma for Postman Pat at Playhouse

IT'S showtime for everyone's favourite postie when Postman Pat and his trusted sidekick Jess come to Harlow Playhouse on Saturday.

It's the day of the talent show and there is much excitement in Greendale. All the invitations have been delivered and it's now up to the villagers to come up with something that will get the vote of approval from Sebastian Sly, the famous judge coming to cast his eye over proceedings.

Ted Glen has the idea to get the karaoke machine dusted off and fixed up, but when Amy suggests solar panels would be more eco-friendly, poor Ted's confusion begins.

Postman Pat sets off on a mission to deliver the equipment needed, but a few mishaps along the way put the whole talent show in jeopardy.

>> There will be two performances of Postman Pat Live - one at noon and the other at 2.30pm. Tickets cost £12.50; call the box office on (01279) 431945 or visit www.playhouseharlow.com.

Feeling the benefits of green therapy

WE ALL feel better after an hour or two of gardening; the fresh air, the exercise and the simple joy of being surrounded by beautiful flowers and the fruits of our labour.

But for some people, the benefits go even further.

"A garden can help people living with dementia," says Jeremy Hughes, Alzheimer's Society chief executive. "They can enjoy socialising, as well as taking part in physical activity and stimulating the senses, all of which greatly improve their wellbeing."

The regularity of nurturing plants on a daily basis also adds structure to the day of those living with dementia, while being involved in gardening activities like sowing seeds and watering plants gives a better sense of control, the society says. The cycle of sowing, nurturing, growing and harvesting plants, vegetables and flowers helps give a better perception of their lives. Also, the delicate nature of some gardening activities can help to maintain or improve fine motor skills and increase spatial awareness.

Garden activities can also help those with dementia talk about their past lives by reminding them about similar activities when they were younger, for example what plants, flowers or vegetables they used to grow.

Research shows that gardening can also help the wellbeing of younger people with early onset dementia.

GARDENING TIPS by Hannah Stephenson

"Younger people with dementia want and need activities which are stimulating, fulfilling and productive because they are still seeking activities which mimic the workplace model," says Jill Walton, support group co-ordinator at the Frontotemporal Dementia Support Group (www.ftdsg.org), which provides support and information to carers of young people with dementia.

Thrive, a national charity supporting horticultural therapy, holds a database of around 900 garden projects in the UK and can put you in touch with a project in your local area (www.thrive.org.uk or 0118 988 5688).

These larger projects are clearly wonderful, but for many people, gardening at home is where the real therapy lies. Indeed, recent research by the Alzheimer's Society, in partnership with Homebase, discovered 83% of people with dementia want to live in their own homes for as long as possible; so how can you create a home garden, or modify an existing one, to give people with dementia the greatest therapy?

Thrive recommends straightforward way-finding: the layout of paths – essentially a loop – could take the visitor on a journey and return them to the starting point, while specimen trees and features such as pergolas, sculptures, bird tables and large pots can act as landmarks.

Create a series of places to sit, with focal points to look at.

These should also be protected from bright sunlight, chilling winds and deep shade, perhaps introducing a canopy or a parasol to prevent exposure to the elements.

Use gentle changes rather than strong contrasts. For example, avoid strong shadows on paths, which might look like holes, abrupt changes in paving materials which may look like steps, or reflective materials which might look like water. These might give rise to general confusion and agitation and also present fall hazards.

When adding a walkway, Alzheimer's Society (www.alzheimers.org.uk) recommends paths which are constant, such as a figure of eight, as paths with abrupt endings can disorientate people with dementia.

ON THE WEB Gardening tips and news

www.harlowstar.co.uk

through introducing plants which are soft to touch such as lambs' ears or bunny tails, an ornamental grass which is soft and fluffy.

Of course, it's wise to remove dangerous plants as dementia sufferers may not recall which plants are poisonous or irritate their skin. Similarly, any plants with thorns or which may sting should be removed from the garden altogether.

If new plants are needed, select these with the person living with dementia. They may have favourites which bring back memories of happy times. Go to the garden centre and let the dementia sufferer physically handle the plants, flowers and gardening items which may trigger memories more effectively than looking at pictures.

For many of us, gardening is an enjoyable pastime – but for others it's a lifeline.

Kidnap thriller is every parent's nightmare

certificate 15, 2h33m

ALTHOUGH it ultimately lacks the courage of its twisted convictions, Prisoners is a provocative thriller about a father who takes justice into his own hands when his little girl is abducted.

The subsequent quest for answers and reconciliation, regardless of the horrific consequences, will strike a deep chord with parents.

Desperate times call for desperate measures and when authorities fail to solve the case, Aaron Guzikowski's script pulls no punches as it depicts the father's transformation from doting family man to snarling judge, jury and executioner.

The film begins with Keller Dover (Hugh Jackman, pictured) out hunting with his teenage son, Ralph (Dylan Minnette). When they return home with a slain deer, the entire Dover clan including wife Grace (Maria Bello) and daughter Anna (Erin Gerasimovich), head over to the home of neighbours Franklin (Terence Howard) and Nancy Birch (Viola Davis) for Thanksgiving lunch.

Soon after Anna and the Birch's girl Eliza (Zoe Soul) disappear to look for a missing whistle and never return.

The two sets of parents are distraught and Ralph remembers a suspicious RV parked down the road. Detective Loki (Jake Gyllenhaal) and local police arrest the driver - Alex Jones (Paul Dano) - who has the mental age of a 10-year-old.

Without any evidence to link Alex to the crime, police are forced to let their prime suspect go back into the care of his mother, Holly (Melissa Leo). So Keller kidnaps Alex at gunpoint and holds the young man hostage.

Prisoners is technically polished and director Denis Villeneuve composes some stunning images. Aaron Guzikowski's script pushes Keller to the edge of the abyss and then curiously leaves him standing there for the final hour, throwing in numerous plot twists and another suspect (David Dastmalchian) to delay the father's fall from grace.

Jackman is mesmerising as a protector willing to ignore his moral compass to reunite his fractured family while Gyllenhaal invests his rebellious cop with an array of twitches and ticks that hint at rage bubbling beneath the surface.

The excessive running time might put off some audiences, but patience is rewarded with fine performances and a slick final act that ties up most of the loose threads.

RUNNER RUNNER

certificate 15, 1h31m

TAKING its title from a hand in poker that is vastly improved by other cards on the table, Runner Runner is a slick yet soulless thriller set in the high-stakes world of online gambling.

When Wall Street wizard Richie Furst (Justin Timberlake) loses his high-salary job and entire fortune, he returns to university to gain his Masters in Finance. He pays his way as an affiliate for gambling websites, introducing fellow students as new players for a small commission.

When the Dean (Bob Gunton) learns about this enterprise, he threatens Richie with expulsion. So the risk-taking student transfers his earnings into an account on the Midnight Black poker website and attempts to win his tuition fees.

The gamble doesn't pay off and Richie identifies peculiar betting patterns in his losing games, which two classmates (Ben Schwartz, Oliver Cooper) confirm must be the result of insider betting. He travels to the Costa Rican headquarters of Midnight Black and confronts owner Ivan Block (Ben Affleck) about the irregularities.

Impressed with Richie's bravado, Block offers him a high-powered job within the company, tightening up online security and identifying glitches in the system. Richie rises swiftly through the ranks and sparks a dangerous attraction to Block's personal assistant, Rebecca Shafran (Gemma Arterton).

When Richie's implicated in Block's wrong-doing, the newcomer must decide whether to align himself with an FBI agent (Anthony Mackie), who is intent on bringing down the Midnight Black empire.

Runner Runner is an enjoyable yet lightweight tale of corporate skulduggery that lacks both directorial brio and verbal fireworks.

Timberlake loses his top in early scenes for no obvious reason other than to shamelessly appeal to his fan base while Affleck looks like he's still shell-shocked from winning the Oscar for Argo and dials in a minimal performance.

Aries 21 March - 20 April
Relationships are very much in focus, and may bring the chance of change along with a surprise. The Sun and Uranus aspect midweek, could shock you into a realization about a person you know very well - so be ready. Meanwhile, the New Moon in Libra, can be excellent for collaborating on a project, or signing an important deal. Call your prediction line for more news and advice...

Taurus 21 April - 21 May
As Mars continues to move through Leo, you may be busy with plans to restyle or reorganize your home. However, the cosmos is also encouraging you to look into your lifestyle, as a potent aspect pattern might push you to alter habits or reconsider aspects of your daily life. It's a good time for starting a diet or exercise routine too. Call your special prediction line for more astral advice...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June
Tensions may show up in the workplace, but also in association with romantic and creative opportunities. A suggestion from somewhere, which could come as a bit of a surprise, may alert you to fresh possibilities that you'd never considered. Meanwhile, the New Moon suggests this is a great time to begin a project or commit to a budding liaison. Call for your love scope in full...

Cancer 22 June - 23 July
A Mercury Neptune aspect, may mean your sixth sense is on the alert. Do tune in. Someone may be trying to tell you something, but in a nuanced way. A dynamic T-Square may highlight tensions. Your home and career balance may need consideration, but thankfully, the New Moon can act as a catalyst for a new beginning. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Leo 24 July - 23 August
A powerful aspect pattern involving tiny Pluto, may be pushing you to consider changes associated with your job and lifestyle. Unexpected information may give you the leeway you need to forge ahead in a fresh direction. Though restless and keen to get moving, consider creating a plan and following it through, for a smoother ride. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Virgo 24 - 23 September
While a friend with a secret may entice you to consider romantic options, your mind may be on other things, as tensions could give rise to the need for a thoughtful decision. Collaborating with someone on a creative plan, suggests your values and budget may need to change to accommodate a shared outlook - how would this suit you? Call me now for your financial forecast in full...

Libra 24 Sept - 23 Oct
The New Moon in your sign, may come at the right time to help you push ahead with new ideas. Earlier in the week, you may be faced with a conflict that requires you to move out of your comfort zone. If you decide to take up the challenge, a positive lunar boost may help take things in the right direction, as long as you follow your instincts. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Scorpio 24 Oct - 22 Nov
Thoughtful reflection may give way to plans to transform an ongoing issue. You may find the more you think about a situation, the more stuck you feel. However, an inspiration this week could bring the answer you need in a flash. It can also be a good time to learn yoga, meditation or start a dream diary to pave the way to inner peace. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Sagittarius 23 Nov - 21 Dec
This week, exploring your motives, feelings and hopes, may be just as rewarding as jetting off on a new adventure. A focus on your spiritual zone, suggests you're discovering things about yourself you never knew before. A fresh perspective on your life may give you the incentive to aim even higher. There could be a romantic surprise for you too. Call now for your love scope in full...

Capricorn 22 Dec - 20 Jan
You may find yourself juggling career and home affairs, and trying to make the best of both worlds. As the Sun aspects both Pluto and Uranus, an unexpected event may mean scrambling your resources, putting on your thinking cap and considering what to do next. This cosmic push may help you succeed at a goal more quickly. Call now Capricorn for your in-depth forecast...

Aquarius 21 Jan - 19 Feb
Try to be careful in the way you word or phrase things, as a spontaneous comment or suggestion could have a surprising effect on someone. You'll likely immediately know where you stand, and what this means for the future of a plan. A New Moon in your travel and exploration zone, can be excellent for starting a journey or perhaps an online course. Call for more news and astral advice...

Pisces 20 Feb - 20 March
You get to make a fresh start concerning finances and shared resources this week. Capture the moon tide midweek, especially if you need to sort out debt issues or generally organize a sound budget. The New Moon may encourage you to make decisions and resolve burning issues to your satisfaction. Keep motivated wellness wise also. Call me now for your financial scope in full...

Three-bed mid-terrace home with conservatory

coverproperty

Location The Maples, Harlow
Category Three-bedroom mid-terrace
Additional Kitchen/diner with separate utility room, conservatory
Guide price £199,995
Agent Geoffrey Matthew Estates, 47 High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 444988

THIS three bedroom, mid-terrace house at The Maples in Harlow is within walking distance of a local park, fields and schools.

An entrance porch with tiled flooring and a storage cupboard leads into the hallway where there is laminate flooring and stairs rising to the first floor landing. There is an understairs storage cupboard and an archway through to the lounge and kitchen/diner.

The lounge also has laminate flooring and a double glazed window overlooking the front of the house.

The kitchen/diner features a range of modern eye and base level units with solid wood work surfaces and tiled splash-backs. There is space for a range oven with extractor hood and also for a dishwasher. There are doors to the separate utility room and to the conservatory.

The utility room has space for a washing machine, tumble dryer and fridge freezer and has a double glazed door leading out to the garden. The conservatory also opens onto the garden.

Upstairs on the first floor landing there is a hatch to the loft space, a storage cupboard and doors leading to the bedrooms and family bathroom. Two of the bedrooms overlook the front of the house.

The garden is mostly laid to patio with a lawn area and a rear access gate.

To make an appointment to view this property, contact the Harlow office of Geoffrey Matthew Estates on (01279) 444988.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

MEMORIES of the wonderful summer of 2013 are fading as temperatures fall and the nights draw in.

Schools and universities have reclaimed our youngsters and its back to routines and early alarm clock starts for many of us.

With the change in season, it's a good time to think about updating and improving your home. And if you're looking for a little inspiration, the National Home Improvement Show in London this weekend is a great place to start.

Whether you're looking for state of the art features and cutting edge technology such as the ability to run your bath on the way home or a stunning cinema system with surround sound, you'll see all sorts of weird and wonderful ideas at this annual event.

Even for simple updating tips it's always worth taking a look at what the experts have on show.

Held at Olympia, the show offers ways to extend your living space, modernise your house and hopefully add value as you do. You can see the products and talk to manufacturers and designers who are always willing to give you the benefit of their experience.

There will be enticing interiors ideas, extension tips and help with landscaping your garden. More than 300 leading home improvement companies will be at the show.

There is an interiors pavilion and a 'bathroom inspiration zone' as well as master class sessions to help you avoid potential pitfalls and to achieve what you want, from getting planning permission, comparing heating systems to staying within budget and more.

This type of show is like catnip to home lovers. It starts at 10am on Friday and runs until 5pm on Sunday.

Stylish semi for £246,950

THIS stylish semi-detached property is in Torkildsen Way on the edge of Fifth Avenue overlooking Harlow Town Park.

The three-bedroom home has an en-suite shower room to the large master bedroom, two reception rooms, gas central heating and uPVC double glazed windows.

Outside there is a garage to the rear en-bloc and a west-facing garden.

Centurion Property Services can provide full details on (01279) 417234.

Well-designed home for £239,995

IN the charmingly named Simplicity Lane in the Newhall area of Harlow, this well-designed property makes creative use of light and space.

The two-bedroom, terraced house has a conservatory which provides additional living space on the ground floor and which overlooks the south-facing rear garden. There is also an internal balcony.

Immaculately presented throughout, this property is being marketed by Howick and Brooker with no onward chain. Call (01279) 418888 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Detached family home for £385,000

FROM the outside you'll notice this spacious house in Potter Street, Harlow, is immaculate. Once you step through the front door it gets better.

The detached home has two reception rooms, a utility room, ground floor cloakroom and four bedrooms with an en-suite to the master.

There is an enclosed front garden with electric gate leading to a garage with driveway and ample parking.

At the rear are two courtyard style gardens, one with a timber shed and the other with a good-size patio.

Call Intercounty Harlow on (01279) 639666 for full details.

Offers over £240,000

IN Harlow's Torkildsen Way - part of the Fifth Avenue development - this house is still covered by its NHBC guarantee.

There are three bedrooms with an en-suite to the master, a ground floor cloakroom and a kitchen/diner with integrated appliances.

Outside there is a carport with room for two vehicles. The garden has a patio with the remainder laid to lawn with flower and shrub borders.

Call Kings Group on (01279) 433033 to book a viewing appointment.

Should Your House Have Sold By Now?

We are often asked to look at properties that really should have sold, but haven't, and we understand the disappointment of vendors whose experience of the sales process has fallen short of their expectations.

We usually find that it's the way that the average estate agent communicates that causes the frustration - not necessarily a lack of buyers.

So if you find yourself with a property that appears to be sticking, you might like to determine the reason by asking yourself the following questions:

Is your agent as enthusiastic as the day he/she listed your property?

Do they keep you regularly updated with constructive feedback immediately following a viewing?

Do they phone you, or do you have to chase them?

Do they accompany viewings to make sure they are maximising buyer contact and feedback opportunities?

Do they keep you informed of what is available and actually selling in the area - and not just their own stock?

Have they provided you with practical marketing advice in terms of how to present your property for sale?

Do they regularly advertise properties similar to your own in order to attract a variety of buyers?

Do you feel like a valued customer with a number of instructions on their books?

Are they blaming a slower market, or taking responsibility?

If the above rings any bells, it might be worth rethinking your sales strategy with a refreshing kick start before your property goes stale on the market. Why not give us a call before it's too late?*

MATT KIMBERLEY

IT'S hard to imagine a more punishing setting for a first drive than eastern Russia, where the surfaces are so badly maintained that a single wheel out of place can mean the end of the road.

Yet that is exactly where Mazda let me get my hands on the new Mazda3 hatchback for the first time, as eight identical cars made their way across the widest country in the world.

This was a desperately tricky place for Mazda to introduce a car. Even the local drivers along the route were strewn like cannon fodder across the roadsides, all victims of the insanely large potholes and roller coaster-sque, frequently sunken highway.

So why did they do it? One reason might be that among the hordes of decades-old Ladas and Cold War-era vans, the curvaceous Mazdas stood out like Miss World contestants in a working farmyard.

Their flowing shape, purposeful front end styling and silhouettes reminiscent of the Ferrari FF gave the convoy something that passers-by couldn't help but stare at.

The new '3' continues the firm's 'Kodo' design theme, which means 'soul of motion'. The result is stand-out styling, with the exception of the curiously long front overhang and the tiny 16-inch alloys fitted to these cars.

In truth, the upgraded 18-inch wheels that are set to be more popular in the UK simply wouldn't have survived the disintegrating Russian roads.

A long-looking bonnet and a backwards-slung passenger area give the '3' a distinctly shooting brake style profile, which in turn presents a premium first impression. It's dimmed by those small wheels, though, and it needs the 18s to look right.

Things are still recognisably Japanese on the inside, with a mixture of sensible black plastics, hard-wearing surfaces and logical layouts all designed to satisfy previous Mazda, Toyota and Nissan buyers. But it's definitely a more appealing place to sit for fans of European brands, with a greater emphasis on style.

It's a subtle improvement of shapes and finishes, but it doesn't push too far in any one direction and the net result is a very likeable interior. Some of the textures should be treated with care, though, because their coarse finish naturally rubs skin away and develops pale patches.

Passengers are catered for reasonably well, with good legroom available in all seats and a light, airy feel in the front seats. The one criticism is for the heavily shaped rear bodywork, which cuts down on available light in the rear seats and makes it feel a little more cramped back there than it really is.

Behind the wheel, drivers are treated to a typically excellent Mazda driving position, partly inherited from the MX-5 sports car. It's easy to drop into the reasonably high seats, where you can then use the large range of adjustment in the seat and steering column to get comfortable.

The mid-range 118bhp 2.0-litre petrol engine employs Mazda's amazing SkyActiv technology to record fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions scarcely believable for its type, but in this trim there's no getting away from its lack of low-down urge. A 165bhp edition is on the way, but this one is best limited to gentle running about, and is at least very quiet and smooth, with a positive gear change and nicely weighted pedals.

Arguably the most impressive aspect of the car on this first drive was the way it handled the shocking road quality. Its suspension soaked up everything without becoming crashy, even managing better than expected

Scrap Cars

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

General Vacancies

Help people to live the lives they choose

The merger of Hft and Self Unlimited has created a new force in the learning disabilities sector. By working innovatively in local communities, our national charity is helping the people we support to get more out of life - while ensuring you get more out of work.

We are looking to recruit the following people:

Residential & Community Support Workers

Full and Part-time opportunities to work in the village locations of Ugley, near Stansted, Bishop's Stortford Town and surrounding areas
Hourly rate - SCP20: £8.17 - SCP22: £8.72 (pro-rata) depending upon experience and qualifications

This is a rewarding and interesting job where you'll support adults with learning disabilities in a huge range of everyday tasks and leisure activities from personal care to supporting out in the community. You will be part of a team working to empower and teach individuals the skills needed to be as independent as possible. Training is provided. Flexibility to work shifts including weekends is essential. Rewards include a contributory pension and four weeks' paid holiday. Salaries are subject to completion of probation and achievement of relevant NVQ.

Waking Night Support Worker (Female applicants only)*

Part-time vacancy covering (2 x 12 Hour Shifts) Fri/Sat alternate weekends
Hourly rate - SCP20: £8.17 - SCP22: £8.72 (pro-rata) depending upon experience and qualifications

A vacancy has arisen for a female waking night support worker to provide support to an individual in their own home. This is a challenging but very rewarding role in which you will be provided with extensive training and support. *This post is covered by the Equality Act 2010, Schedule 9, Part 1 and Occupational Requirements.

Relief Support Workers

Bishop's Stortford and surrounding areas incl. Harlow and Ugley, near Stansted
Hourly rate - SCP16: £8.29 inclusive of holiday pay

You will work on an 'as and when' basis, covering staff holidays and sickness. This is a great introduction if you are seriously considering working in the social care industry and would like to gain some experience, or if you have other commitments which you need to balance with work. You will be supporting individuals with everyday tasks and leisure activities; teaching them the skills to be as independent as possible.

Senior Support Worker

Full-time opportunity within our residential service located in the village of Ugley, near Stansted
Hourly rate - SCP24: £9.25 - SCP26A: £9.92 depending upon experience and qualifications

You will be required to work as part of a Team of Seniors Support Workers to oversee the smooth running of the service. You will have the support of a full-time manager and your colleagues. You will help lead and develop the staff team, manage a rota, supervise staff, support on shift, complete 'On Call' duties and support the service manager to provide a service with the best possible outcomes for the supported individuals and staff teams.

To apply for any of these positions, please go to www.hft.org.uk and follow the jobs link or email your details to: jobs@hft.org.uk or call 01462 850022 and ask for a Herts & Essex application form.
Closing date: Monday 14th October 2013.

Successful applicants will be required to undertake an enhanced disclosure check and a check against the ISA Vulnerable Adults list through the Disclosure and Barring Service. However a criminal record may not necessarily bar you from employment. Hft is committed to equal opportunities and welcomes applications from all sections of the community.

Essex County Council

(Unnamed footpath running through underpass below First Avenue, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Use) Order 2012

Notice is hereby given that the above Order made by Essex County Council, under s14 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, has been continued in force with the consent of the Secretary of State for the Department for Transport until 11 June 2015. Effect Of The Order: to temporarily close that length of Unnamed footpath running through underpass below First Avenue in the District of Harlow from a point 90 metres east of junction with Park Lane proceeding north in an anticlockwise loop beneath First Avenue for its entirety to a point on the south side of First Avenue 54 metres east of Park Lane and 110 metres east of Park Lane.

An alternative route has been provided by the signalled pedestrian crossing immediately to the west of the junction between First Avenue and Park Lane.

The Order came into effect on 11 June 2012 and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while works for the realignment of underpass approach ramp due to the residential development is undertaken.

SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 28
FOOTBALL

FA CUP, 2nd qual rd: Harlow Tn v Heybridge Swifts (3pm KO).

RUGBY

RFU London div three north east: Sudbury v Harlow.

Hawks debutant rescues point against Redbridge

FORMER Brighton & Hove Albion player James Smith struck a debut goal in the last minute to rescue a point for Harlow Town at home to Redbridge on Saturday.

Harlow had looked to repeat last Saturday's performance against Lowestoft to get them back to winning ways in the league after a loss away to Heybridge Swifts.

Harlow did have a big penalty claim turned down by referee Neil West in the first half.

Read appeared to have been dragged down by Redbridge captain Daniel Smith but the appeals were turned down.

Geoffrey Miller then opened the scoring for Redbridge seven minutes before half-time.

A cross from Aiken met the big man, who headed past Dodge to put Redbridge 1-0 ahead.

The visitors were then awarded a penalty close to the break after Shaun Gliddon brought down Damali.

Eljay Worrell stepped up and his spot-kick was superbly saved by Dodge but his joy was shortly lived as seconds later a cross from the right found Worrell who made up for his mistake to put Redbridge 2-0 on 44 minutes.

Harlow showed some fighting spirit and Darren Blewitt tangled with a Redbridge player. Both were cautioned.

Harlow pulled a goal back when Leon Antoine knocked on a goal kick from Dodge to Read and he looked up and lobbed keeper Dean Driscoll to halve the deficit on 57 minutes.

In-form Read, who was denied a penalty after being brought down in the first half, also hit a post, while Antoine fluffed a glorious chance.

Just when it looked like it was not going to be the Hawks' day, the hosts grabbed an equaliser on the 90th minute.

Dadson raced past the Redbridge full-back and pull back a cross which was only half cleared and the ball found Harlow new boy Smith who took one touch and smashed it home to give Danny Chapman's men a deserved point.

Harlow are 8th in the table.

Rocket Olly takes Premier League Riders' crown

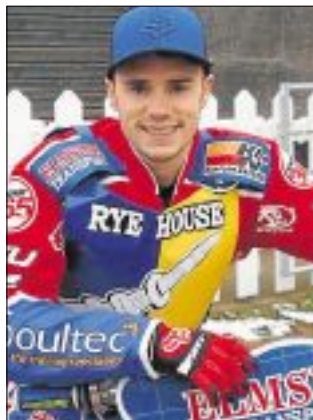

RYE House Rockets number one Olly Allen produced a magnificent display to capture the Premier League Riders' Championship at Sheffield on Sunday.

He follows in the tyre-tracks of Tai Woffinden (2008) as the second Rocket to win the prestigious title, with his success coming a year on from team-mate Anders Mellgren's memorable second place in the event.

Allen missed the Rockets' League victory at Owlerton in July due to a broken forearm, but more than made amends at Sunday's championship, with his 12 point haul from the main racing programme taking him into a semi-final shoot-out with a comfort margin of four points.

The 31-year-old won that heat, and then produced a tremendous first bend surge around the rest of the field to claim another victory in the Grand Final.

Leicester's Magnus Karlsson took the silver, with Jason Doyle of Somerset third, as he was a year ago.

CHAMPION: Rye House Rockets heat leader Olly Allen (Pic: Steve Weemes)

finished fourth.

A former Great Britain World Cup international, Allen has previously won the Elite League title with Coventry (2007), and both the Premier and Amateur (now National) League championships with Peterborough (1998, 1997).

But this one will prove to be one of his most memorable and Allen is sure to receive a warm welcome when he leads the Rockets back into Hoddesdon this Saturday for the home league match against Redcar (7pm).

His success is also sure to boost Rockets' confidence for tomorrow night's Knockout Cup Final first leg at Somerset.

■ RYE House Rockets closed out their away Premier League campaign by twice recovering from a 10 point deficit to snare a rare match point at Berwick in the 48-44 defeat.

The Rockets trailed 23-13, only to bounce back to 24-20 with a 7-1 from Jason Bunyan and double points rider

Tyson Nelson, who caught David Bellego for second place on the line.

The Bandits rebuilt their advantage to 10, at 36-26, before Olly Allen came to the rescue with victories in Heats 11 and 13, the former accompanied by a second place from Pontus Aspgren and the latter by a third place point from Anders Mellgren to bring the score back again to 42-38.

Nelson and reserve guest Oliver Greenwood tucked in behind Matthew Wethers for a 3-3 in Heat 14, with the Aussie re-appearing in the nominated race – as Allen had a sore arm – for the victory over Sebastian Alden and Wethers that ensured the match point.

Rockets team manager John Sampford said: "Although we couldn't get the 5-1 to force a draw, we came away with a match point at a track where we rarely gain anything.

"We've come away from here continuing to build momentum for the first leg of the cup final at Somerset this Friday."

Robins no reprieve

THE Robins were undone as they threw away a lead to lose in the FA Vase second qualifying round with two goals conceded in the final 10 minutes.

The match referee contacted the FA after noticing a discrepancy in the Sporting Bengal line-up, but it upheld the result after confirming a home player was eligible to play in the tie.

The Bengal keeper came on during the game, after arriving at the ground late.

Sawbridgeworth Town took the lead on only 12 minutes when Jack Zanone struck.

It was a lead Marc Das's men would keep for much of the game.

But Carlos Constanano netted on 80 minutes to level the score. Sawbridgeworth were then stung by a goal from Prince Pipin on 85 minutes.

The visitors battled on in search of an equaliser but their efforts proved in vain.

Good start for new-look basketball club

IT has been a summer of transformation at Harlow Hawks Basketball Club, with a number of players leaving.

This meant the club has axed its second team and combined the two sides into one.

However, from the flames the club has risen like a phoenix and launched their Herts League Plate campaign with an excellent 57-45 victory at Stevenage Scorpions on Tuesday evening.

First team player Nick Moss explained: "The decision was taken to run one squad that would compete in Herts division two with a mixture of experience and young talent, with a view of trying to build a team that can compete in division one in the future."

Stevenage opened up a six-point lead early on.

Moss opened the scoring for the Hawks with a three-pointer and Harlow edged the first quarter 13-10.

Russell Stonehouse and Rimantas Norkelinas provided most of the Hawks points in the last five minutes of the second quarter as they attacked the basket resulting in either scores or trips to the free throw line. Hawks ended the half up 27-19.

The Hawks started the second half the better of the two teams as they tried to increase the tempo this resulted in a number of free throw attempts for Harlow which they failed to capitalise on.

Hawks seemed to have control of the contest without ever really stretching their lead and headed into the final quarter with a 39-28 advantage.

White used his height advantage for the visitors as his finished a number of plays around the basket.

Hawks ran out winners 57-45 to get this new era of hawks basketball off to a solid start but this game highlighted hard work still needs to be done in training.

Great day for club at Essex Champs

HARLOW Running Club members had a successful day at the Essex Half Marathon Championships held at Pleshey, near Chelmsford, picking up two golds and one silver medal.

Steve Murtagh led the way, finishing in eighth place out of 394 finishers and was first veteran 40 in an excellent 1 hour, 14 minutes and 40 seconds.

John Tennant finished in 92nd place (1st Vet 60) in a superb 1:35.05 and Colin Moody was 131st (2nd Vet 60) in 1:39.04.

Jared Bethell (20th, 1:19.37), Sean Flynn (141st, 1:40.02), Andrew Terrell (221st, 1:48.29), Janice Page (226th, 1:49.34), Graham Saville (247th, 1:52.01), Robin Lozeau (252nd, 1:52.28), David Page (266th, 1:54.07), Paul Schroder (268th, 1:55.07, PB) and Wendy Spring (301st, 1:59.35) also ran.

At the Dublin Half Marathon, Andy Kinney finished in 3,719th place out of 5,405 finishers in 2:10.24.

Kinney crossed the border and ran the Belfast City Half Marathon the next day, finishing in 2,172nd place out of 3,253 finishers in 2:11.47.

At the Leighton Buzzard 10 mile race, Richard Solomons was 80th out of 203 finishers in 1:08.03.

At the Sedgfield Park 5K run in Durham, Jamie Jephcott was sixth out of 132 finishers in 19.14. Son Daniel was seventh and first U-20 in an excellent personal best time for the distance of 20.00. Jamie's daughter Laura was 76th in 29.48.

At the Gunpowder Park 5K run in Waltham Abbey, Debbie Barry finished in 43rd out of 90 finishers in a PB of 25.31 and Vicky Calver was 80th in 32.34.

'Hawks' signing will return to Football League'

HARLOW Town manager Danny Chapman is purring at the acquisition of former Brighton and Hove Albion and Leyton Orient midfielder James Smith.

However, Chapman knows it will only be a stop-gap measure – as Smith will be back in the Football League before too long.

The 24-year old spent last season at Eastbourne Borough in the Conference South after a series of injuries.

He picked up an injury at the end of last season and was released and has spent the opening months of this season training with Enfield 1893.

"I think James Smith will go back in the Football League. I have no doubt about that. He broke his foot and has had two injuries. He needs to get back to playing football. Hopefully we can help him," said the Hawks boss.

"He is quality. He is so good technically."

Smith progressed through the youth ranks at Crystal Palace and was awarded a one-year contract in the summer of 2008.

After failing to make an appearance for Crystal Palace, he was released from the club in the summer of 2009.

In August 2009, Smith signed a one-year contract with Brighton & Hove Albion after impressing during a trial with the club.

After being released by the Seagulls, Smith went signed with Leyton Orient in 2011.

But in May he was one of three players released by Orient manager Russell Slade.

Following a brief period at Dover Athletic, Smith joined Eastbourne Borough in November 2012.

The Hawks also announced the departure of Simon Alexandersson who has returned to Sweden after his short spell in the UK.

Cowley secures England girls' order of merit title

SUCCESS: Gabriella Cowley capped a brilliant year with the England girls order of merit title (s)

TEENAGE golfer Gabriella Cowley might have missed out on winning the England women's Order of Merit title, but she more than made up for it by securing top spot in the England Golf girls' order of merit.

It has been an incredible year for the Harlow youngster, which she has capped by winning the girls crown, sponsored by the golf tour operator Lorrin Golf.

The 17-year-old, of Threshers Barn, climbed almost 500 places in the world rankings, qualified for the Ricoh Women's British Open, won a top scratch event and played for both England girls' and ladies' teams during the year.

"I am really happy to win the order of merit, it's a big achievement and it means a lot," said

Gabriella. "I've worked very hard this year, both during last winter and through the playing season, and this shows that it's paying off."

David Kelly, the managing director of Lorrin Golf, commented: "Lorrin Golf would like to congratulate Gabriella Cowley on her superb play throughout 2013. As winner of the England Golf girls' order of merit we wish Gabriella all the very best for her new challenges in 2014."

Gabriella topped the table ahead of British champion Georgia Hall, of Dorset, while 14-year-old Sammy Fuller of Surrey took third place.

Her highlight was playing in the British Open over the Old Course at St Andrews – and shooting four-under par in final qualifying to secure her place at this prestigious event.

She also won the Critchley Salver at Sunningdale, finished third in the English amateur and reached the last 16 in the British Championship and, and was a member of England's home internationals and represented GB&I in the Vagliano Trophy.

Along the way she also achieved her handicap to plus-four and almost broke into the top 100 in the world amateur rankings, having started the year at around 600th.

"Next year is going to be even better," said Gabriella, who has decided to remain an amateur for the 2014 season. "I shall just work harder and hopefully win a few more titles!"

Ladies lose opener

THERE was a disappointing start to the season as Harlow lost their opening Essex Women's Hockey League premier division game by the odd goal in seven.

The side conceded two goals within the first 10 minutes against Wapping IV, who were very eager and quick off the mark in Saturday's clash.

Charlotte Byers converted a cross from Turner to halve the deficit.

Both teams had further attempts at goal, including two short corners for Harlow within the first half which they failed to convert.

Wapping struck twice more in the second half.

Byers put away another shot which deflected off a post from Smith to bring the hosts back into the game.

Harlow pulled another back through Emma Tweddle but could not find an equaliser.

Sue Thomas was player of the match.

The men's first team won their East Hockey League division six south west opener 2-1 at Saffron Walden II.

Harlow Ladies II lost 6-1 at home to Phoenix.

From a short corner routine Harlow took the lead. Sarah Donaghey hit the ball to the left post and it was tapped in by Sarah Alderson in the first 10 minutes of the game.

But rampant Phoenix came out and scored six goals after the break.

Rams into solid form ahead of Sudbury top test

THE Rams just missed out on a bonus point for scoring a fourth try, but will be well pleased with their efforts from Saturday's 22-9 victory at home to Old Brentwoods.

The victory will lift confidence ahead of this weekend's tough trip to Sudbury, who have made a storming start to the RFU London division three north east season. It will need a real effort from Harlow to keep their good start on track against the undefeated Suffolk side.

Twenty minutes into the game against Brentwoods, the visitors went ahead with a penalty.

However, Harlow took the lead with a try from winger Chris Webb.

On the half-hour mark a try from Luke Bowering, converted by Michael Dobson, extended the Harlow lead to 12-3.

Late in the half the visitors added two more penalties to make it 12-9 at the interval.

The Rams were not helped by the fact that for the last few minutes of the half they were a man short due to a yellow card to Luke Bowering for pulling back an opponent.

Harlow rallied in the second half with a penalty eight minutes in from Dobson.

And then midway through, a try from Kain Claridge converted by Dobson which took them to a lead of 22-9.

They defended this comfortably to the end, but could not find the all-important extra try.

The Rams' second team celebrated their first win of the season in a tight 17-14 contest against Maldon.

Harlow scored two excellent tries, one by Kurtis Knightley and the other by Neil McMullen.

Knightley converted both and also slotted a crucial penalty to seal the win.

Two more debut for Town as Read nets late winner

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman gave first starts to two new signings but needed a late goal from Alex Read to dispatch lowly Romford.

Tuesday's 1-0 home win moved Harlow Town up to seventh in the Ryman division one north table, but they are already a massive 14 points off runaway leaders VCD Athletic.

Chapman named Dean Neil in goal. The 35-year-old hugely experienced goalkeeper has returned to the club for a second spell.

Neil represented England Schoolboys and went through the ranks at Charlton Athletic before a long spell in non-league at the likes of Redbridge.

"Dean pulled off a brilliant save at the end. He will be my number one," said the Hawks boss.

Chapman also played Layne Eadie at left-back. Eadie has previously played for St Neots, Aylesbury United and AFC Totton.

"Layne has got unbelievable pace," beamed Chapman. "He was solid and technically very good as well."

Former Leyton Orient and Brighton star

James Smith played his second game in midfield after scoring in the weekend draw with Redbridge (match report inside).

Harlow had created several chances but just failed to break the deadlock.

Shaun Gliddon's powerful header was tipped on to the bar by the Romford keeper in the first half.

Smith was denied with a stop on the line, while Junior Dadson and Leon Antoine both went close.

Harlow suffered a blow when centre-half Darren Williams went off on 75 minutes with a medial ligament injury, which will rule him out for six weeks.

But finally Harlow broke the deadlock on 88 minutes. A corner came in from the right, Antoine got the knock on to Read who tapped in to give Harlow all three points.

Romford could have had an equaliser in the dying seconds when Kurt Smith went one on one with Neil but the keeper came to the rescue and made a fine stop.

HARLOW TN: Neil, Barnard, Eadie, Gliddon, Williams (Curley 75), Blewitt, Dadson, Muguo, Read, Antoine, Smith (McKenzie 83).

MAJOR COUP: Former Charlton keeper Dean Neil played against Romford after re-signing for Hawks

'Ban Hawks from FA Cup home ties'

HEYBRIDGE Swifts boss Mark Hawkes believes Harlow Town should not be allowed to play at home in the FA Cup.

Hawkes has labelled the surface as 'diabolical'.

"If Harlow got into the first-round proper, they wouldn't be allowed to play on that pitch so why should the rules be any different at this stage of the competition?" fumed Hawkes.

The two sides go head to head at Barrows Farm in the FA Cup second qualifying round on Saturday, with £4,500 on offer in prize money for the winner – and a place in the final qualifying round of the competition before Football League clubs such as Wolves and Sheffield United enter the fray.

But Hawkes is adamant that Harlow should not be allowed to play matches on the surface as it gives the home team an unfair advantage.

The pitch was installed in the summer, costing more than £300,000, a great expense but a statement of intent from Hawks' owners Platinum Sports Management.

"I can't say I agree with them being allowed to play on a 3G pitch," Hawkes said.

"It's diabolical and, when they get used to it, it'll give them a huge advantage.

"For visiting teams like us it makes it more of a lottery and means it will be a different type of game.

"The bounce of the ball will be difficult to adjust to, it will fly around at a hundred miles an hour and be especially hard for our goalkeeper."

TURF WARS: Black material sprays up from the artificial surface as Junior Dadson is tackled earlier this season

The Hawks boss hit back. "It's just an excuse. We have had no complaints from any other side this year," he said.

Chapman believes his side have a great chance of progression after knocking out Ryman premier side Lowestoft in the previous round.

Hawks will be without central defender Darren Williams, who has been ruled out for six weeks with a medial ligament injury.

Chapman will step up his quest to bring in another centre-half now, although he is confident experienced player-coach Danny Brown will return against Swifts this Saturday.

Harten hoping to play in final Test match

JO Harten is expected to line-up for England in the final match of the three-game Test series against South Africa at Worcester Arena this Saturday.

The Harlow player and former St Mark's student has returned from a successful spell playing for Kia Magic, a semi-professional netball club in New Zealand.

She played the first match of the series against South Africa, which was shown live on Sky Sports last Sunday.

Harten (23) was also expected to play in last night's second Test match against South Africa.

In the first match England maintained their unbeaten record in 2013 with a hard-fought 49-38 win.

The Harlow player was substituted with England clinging onto a two-point lead as the home side made a lacklustre start to Sunday's match.

England led 22-20 at half-time, but picked up in the second period and triumphed by 11 points.

Head coach Anna Mayes said: "A win's a win, but I'm disappointed with the up and down nature of our performance."

Captain Pamela Cooke added: "There was a lot of nerves coming into the game. South Africa came out strong and we're a bit disappointed with how we started, but I'm pleased with how we finished. We know what we can do. Never did we think the game was beyond us. We knew we had it in us, we just needed to keep plugging away."
